Dedication

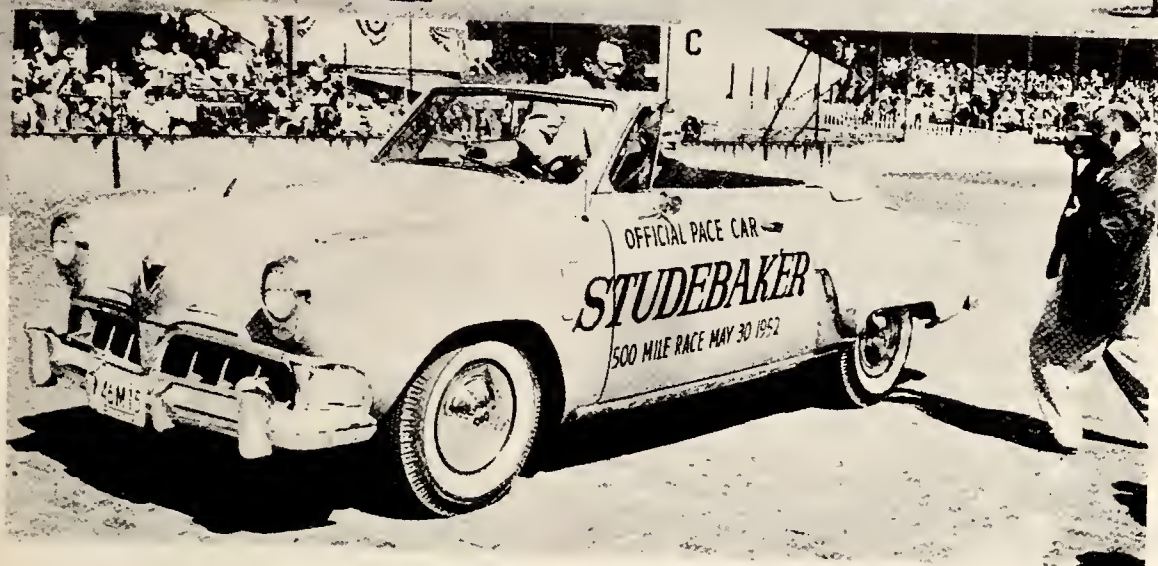

To the Alumni this book we dedicate
We feel that they should really rate,
For it's in their steps, we tried to follow
So that our lives would not be shallow.

Down through the years
There have been trials and tears,
Laughter and joys, not forgetting the cheers
We've studied and worked to allay the fears,
Of parents and teachers for our future careers.

So, now it is with much respect
And admiration too,
That we the class of '53
Dedicate this Year Book to you.

Dear Teacher:

THE PACE MAKER

MR. LIEURANCE, Superintendent

Should you want to improve education, don't be a Superintendent, a Principal, or even a Teacher; be a progressive school patron.

There is nothing so wrong with our schools that influential patrons cannot cure.

MR. COX, Trustee

We trust that you will always remember your School Years as a pleasant part of your "Long Journey." May your highways all be happy!

MR. COLLOM, Principal

To preserve the purpose and improve the quality of our school is a sacred trust; a responsibility that rests in equal measure upon parent, teacher, and child.

MRS. MEAD, Annual Advisor

Education is the foundation of democracy and the keystone to freedom. The strength of any building depends upon its foundation. As parents and teachers, you and I, let's keep the foundation of our government strong by graduating fine boys and girls from our high schools just as Petroleum is doing this year.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

This was quite the case in the fall of 1941 when twenty-four innocents made their first appearance in the Petroleum School, for you see they were not typical first graders. Miss Mary Blair was the teacher who guided us through the first grade. The members of our class were: Dorothy Gaskill, Earl Brickley, Elizabeth Pinkerton, Eugene Allen, Rex Gentis, John Henry Binegar, Forrest Earl Ramseyer, Dale Holloway, Norman Bisel, Dorothy Mae Ley, Jimmy Mosser, Elmer Bower, Deloris Kleinknight, Leon McCormack, Charles Ray Barnes, Frederick Settle, Martha Harris, Donna Kay Brumbaugh, John Studebaker, Raymond Jr. Blair, Christine Egly, Shirley Schlagenhauf, Norma Jean Risser, Ninetta Barr.

It was a bright morning, early in September, 1942 when the school bus arrived at its destination. Our teacher for the Second Grade was Miss Steiner. We had lost two of our members, Norma Risser and Donna Brumbaugh. This left our membership at 22.

In August of 1943 we continued our excursion, with the exception of our new members, Paul Zimmerman, Silberia Benavidez, Roger Humphrey, Jack Monce, Ned Murry, Michael Ulmer, Christiam Wickey, Daphene Bunch, William Wagner. We had lost Deloris Kleinknight, Forrest Ramseyer, Jimmy Mosser, Dorothy Ley. Our teacher this year was Mrs. Neuenschwander.

Our Fourth Grade teacher was Mrs. Egly. We had gained 3 new members. Connie Pursley, Sandra Pursley, and Carl Stauffer. We had lost Raymond Blair, Norman Bisel, Dale Holloway.

We enjoyed the Fifth Grade because for the first time in school we had two teachers in one grade, they were Mrs. Egly and Mr. Reynolds. This year we gained 8 new members. They were Carol Smith, Lucile Kingen, Patricia Wall, William Harris, Max Goodspeed, Gerald Grimm, Norma Risser and Donna Brumbaugh had returned.

Our Sixth year Mr. Reynolds was again our teacher. We had lost Gene Allen, Elmer Bower, Elizabeth Pinkerton, Sandra and Connie Pursley. We had 2 new members, Nancy Rosinski and Billy Wheeler.

In the Seventh Grade we found a whole new life planned for us. We elected Mr. Carnes as our Sponsor. This year we lost Dorothy Gaskill, Billy Wheeler. Our new members were James Bunsold, Charley Gonzalez, Bethany Millett.

In the Eighth Grade we again elected Mr. Carnes. We lost Billy Harris, Lucile Kingen, Earl Brickley, and Richard Martin. We gained John Bunsold.

The first day of school, August, 1949, will never be forgotten by us. It was on that day we entered the threshold of our high school career. Twenty enthusiastic pupils gathered for the first time as a Freshman class. We felt green and awkward and hardly knew how to act. Gradually this awkward feeling left us and we felt more free to become acquainted with our classmates. We followed our teachers to classes for fear of getting lost. This habit, however, was soon overcome as we were becoming inquisitive as to the manner of our upper classmen. We again elected Mr. Carnes as our Sponsor, and our officers as follows: President, Shirley Schlagenhauf; Vice-President, Paul Zimmerman; Secretary, John Studebaker; Treasurer, Charles Barnes.

The Second year we continued our duties as Sophomores. Although our number had been diminished by two, we kept up our spirits and took an active part in athletics and literary work. This year we elected Mr. Gyer as our Sponsor. Our officers were: President, Shirley Schlagenhauf; Vice-President, Max Goodspeed, Secretary, Nancy Rosinski; Treasurer, Christine Egly. This year we presented our first Class Play, "Beacon Hill Billy."

By the Third year we changed our name to Juniors. Eighteen members we were, proving the "They conquer who endure." This year proved to be a very successful one in every respect, during which we purchased our class rings and also sold programs, candy and pop. We elected Mrs. Mead as our Sponsor and officers were: Pres., Shirley Schlagenhauf; Vice-Pres., Charles Barnes; Secretary, Nancy Rosinski; Treasurer, Byron Myers.

Throughout the four-year course we have pursued our studies diligently, and never has the black cloud of disagreement riven our class in twain. We have taken an active interest in all school activities, and our parties, have been whaling successes.

The Fourth year we elected Mrs. Mead and our officers were: Pres., Shirley Schlagenhauf; Vice-Pres., Rex Gentis; Secretary, Nancy Rosinski; Treasurer, Christine Egly.

We are now on the last lap of our High School career, and after all is said and done we feel that the time has been well and profitably spent.

CLASS WILL

We, the Seniors of 1953, of the Petroleum High School, county of Wells, state of Indiana, being of sound minds, broadened by four years of the most thorough education, and about to depart from this harbor of good times and little hard work, do hereby declare and publish this, our last will and testament.

I, Christine Egly, will my ability to miss school every month to go to Fort Wayne to Elizabeth Pinkerton, my studious nature to Marlene Isch, and my ability to have a steady boy friend to Janice Bates.

I, Rex Gentis, will my physique to Mr. Flick, my nickname "Smiley" to Mrs. Blessing, and my car "Ring Eye" to anybody who thinks they can drive it.

I, Byron Myers, will my distinguished walk to John Young, my book on "A Successful Hobo Life" to Roger Grimm, and my title of "The Biggest Liar" to Kash Vanover.

I, Norma Risser, will my shortness to Bob Stauffer, my sweetness to Betty Barnes, and my slimness to Betty Holloway.

I, Nancy Rosinski, will my blond hair to Connie Monce, my ability to drive other people's cars to Virgil Alberson, and my talent to get fun out of "messing around" to Jill Harshman.

I, Shirley Schlagenhauf, will my art of saying much when there is little to be said to Carol Blocker, my remains after the annual is published to the nearest hospital, and my natural curly hair to Rosalee Kirkwood.

I, John Studebaker, will my rippling muscles to Jimmy Ramseyer, my interest in the Montpelier girls to anybody who thinks they can handle them, and my 10c bottle of peroxide to Martha Harshman.

I, Patty Wall, will my ability to understand Government to next year's senior class, my long hair to Elizabeth Bryan, and my ability to get along with the teachers to Duane White.

We hereby attest that the above constitutes the final will of the class of nineteen hundred and fifty-three.

Signed: SENIOR CLASS

Class Poem

CLASS OF FIFTY-THREE

We are the students of fifty-three a smarter class is yet to be:
Our laurels of credits we now may say,
Accomplished by hard work and little play.

We entered as Freshies green and shy
Coming to learn the wherefore and why
Of subjects to us then vague and dim,
But we worked with a will determined to win.

Next year we were the Sophies gay,
Easily having our own sweet way,
With lots of parties and lot of pep
'Twas then we received our wonderful rep.

Then as Juniors our work piled high,
We struggled vainly to reach the sky;
Made Seniors and teacher sit up and look
As we wisely expounded on every book.

We've weather the storm of credits and grade,
We've learned that poets are born, not made;
We've all decided to succeed, and that,
We'll be sharp, be natural, but never be flat.
